Equinix has released MediaCentral 2.5, the latest version of its media center solution for the Mac. According to the company, "MediaCentral 2.5, expands its feature set within the DVD module. Users can now enjoy watching their favorite DVDs in Dolby Digital Surround sound. Settings for sound, audio tracks, subtitles and angles can be changed either via keystrokes or within the new DVD Options Menu. This content menu elegantly fades in over the screen while watching a movie. All of MediaCentral's features benefit from a variety of performance enhancements integrated into this latest release. The speed of navigating through large DVD libraries has been greatly improved." The MediaCentral 2.5 update is free to all MediaCentral 2.x users. For new users the cost is $29.95.

Version 2.5.0 Features:

- New: Support for Dolby Digital Surround-Sound (AC-3)
- New: An options menu has been added to the DVD menu for added convenience
- Navigation speed in DVD libraries has been improved dramatically
- The stability of QuickTime
