Stationary Pack 2 adds interactive designs

Equinux has releases the latest version of its e-mail design software, Stationary Pack 2 for Leopard Mail. Users can choose from over 660 different designs from 122 templates, now with interactive options. Various themes are included, from invitations to holiday cards. Design elements can be changed just clicking on the feature, such as the background that will change color.

The text fields will adapt to the length of the message, and personal photos can be added from iPhoto, Aperture, or other folders. When first creating an email, the templates are organized into seven categories showing a preview of each one, with the option of sorting by keyword or text search. Stationary Pack 2 for Mac OS X 10.5 is available from Equinux for $50.
